What is a Delegation Event Complaint?

A Delegation Event complaint resolves misconduct issues that arise during the Olympic, Paralympic, Pan American or Parapan American Games (each referred to as a “Delegation Event”) or when an individual is otherwise removed from the delegation. Misconduct may involve any alleged violation of the USOPC Behavior Pledge. In these instances, the individual has the opportunity for a hearing before the Games Administrative Board (GAB).

What is the Delegation Event Complaint Process?
When an athlete or other individual at a Delegation Event engages in misconduct, or their participation rights are affected, and the matter can’t be resolved informally, a formal hearing is provided. The GAB hears evidence and renders a decision on the matter, including the ability to impose appropriate sanctions. Since Delegation Event complaints may impact participation in an upcoming competition, resolution is treated as an urgent matter and may be expedited.

Complaint Filed
A complaint regarding participation or discipline at the Games is filed with the USOPC CEO and DRU.

Complaint Receipt
DRU acknowledges the complaint and provides notice to the respondent, any affected parties and relevant stakeholders.

Informal Resolution
The USOPC CEO will attempt to resolve the dispute to the satisfaction of the parties. Agreed-upon resolutions will close the matter.

GAB Convened
The GAB is comprised of (i) USOPC Chair, (ii) USOPC CEO, (iii) Chef de Mission, (iv) AAC Chair, and (v) NGBC Chair, or their designees if there are any conflicts.

Formal Hearing
A formal hearing is held with the parties providing the opportunity to present factual evidence and legal arguments to the GAB.

GAB Decision
The GAB considers the evidence presented and will issue a written decision on the matter. The GAB may impose any penalty it deems appropriate.

Arbitration Process
Parties can bypass the process by filing demand for arbitration to the AAA for a final and binding decision. Any decision of the GAB can be brought forth to the AAA.

DRU oversees the general administration of Games matters to ensure that the complaint is heard in a timely and efficient manner. This involves managing the overall processing of the complaint, from initiation of the matter to the closing of the case.

DRU receives information about the matter, serves as a liaison and counsel to the GAB, processes the complaint, communicates with the parties, and oversees the case management, among any other administrative or legal support.

GAB Support
DRU serves as liaison to the GAB in this type of matter. This includes setting up meetings, forwarding relevant documents or communication, answering procedural and logistical questions, and working through hearing panel needs. DRU is respectful of the hearing panel members' time and serves to support them in their role by making any part of the process as streamlined and efficient as possible.

Counsel to GAB
An attorney within DRU serves as counsel to the GAB. In the role as legal counsel to the GAB, the attorney may provide general legal advice and guidance and answer any questions related to legal issues that arise in the proceeding. This includes setting out the standards and scope of review so that the GAB understands the appropriate purview of the proceeding, along with their authority. DRU participates in deliberations with the GAB to assist with points of clarification, but does not have any decision-making authority. DRU drafts all final decisions in line with the GAB's determinations in each particular case for final review and approval by the hearing panel.

Communication with Parties
DRU communicates directly with the parties or involved individuals in the case and serves as a liaison between the parties and the GAB. This prevents any ex-parte communications with the GAB, along with streamlining information. This also allows for the effective facilitation of information to the GAB by eliminating extraneous communications. DRU ensures that all documents, filings submissions, or formal requests are promptly delivered to the GAB and confirms receipt and delivery with the parties.

DRU may answer logistical, administrative, or other questions from the parties directly, along with addressing any procedural questions on behalf of the USOPC.
