Mr. Glover noted that the USOC ended 2010 with a favorable variance to budget with regard to revenue. Expenses exceeded budget for 2010, but all of the excess expenses had been discussed with and approved by the Board, and the USOC’s net income was favorable to budget. From an operating revenue standpoint, the USOC ended the year favorably. Mr. Glover explained certain elements of the USOC’s year-end financial report to the Board, including accounting aspects of the USOC’s headquarters-related deal with the City of Colorado Springs. Mr. Glover then explained to the Board how the USOC’s financial results compared to organization’s performance screen goals. Mr. Glover also updated the Board on the USOC’s year-end cash flow status and headcount.

Mr. Glover next updated the Board regarding the USOC’s year-to-date financial results for 2011. Mr. Glover reminded the Board of the USOC’s cyclical accounting nature; noting that in 2011 expenses are expected to exceed revenue and then in 2012 revenues are expected to exceed expenses.

A discussion then occurred regarding the effects of a grant from the Veterans Administration on the USOC’s financial reporting, as well as on Paralympic division staffing.

3. CEO Report

   A. Sport

   C. Development

   Janine Musholt, Chief Development Officer, updated the Board regarding revenue from the USOC’s development efforts. Mrs. Musholt noted that direct marketing revenue is tracking slower than expected, but explained that she believes this is a timing issue, as March acquisition rates appear to be more in line with expectations. Mrs. Musholt then updated the Board regarding the USOC’s major gifts efforts and USOF Trustees acquisitions. On both fronts the USOC is doing very well. Mrs. Musholt next advised the Board regarding the USOC’s expectations for development related revenue on a quad over quad basis.

A discussion then occurred regarding the USOC’s direct mail efforts, including results, budgeting and future plans. There was general consensus among the Board that the USOC must shift to an increased digital focus for direct response efforts, but must do so in balance with its traditional efforts so as not to lose existing donors.

Mrs. Musholt next engaged the Board in a discussion regarding several ways in which Board members might help the USOC’s development efforts. Mrs. Musholt explained to the Board that there will be several fundraising events around the country in the coming months, and that Board members are welcome to join in these events or host others. The USOC has also restructured it Games related hospitality benefits, and Board members should direct any contacts interested in Games hospitality to the Development Division.

D. Communications

Mr. Sandusky noted that both Mr. Probst and Mr. Blackmun had recently been appointed to important IOC commissions (International Relations and Marketing, respectively), a first for the USOC. Mr. Sandusky next turned to the 2012 London Olympic Games, reporting to the Board on the ongoing dispute between the British Olympic Association and LOCOG, and noting that tickets for the 2012 Games are going on sale. A discussion occurred regarding ticket pricing for the Games.

Finally Mr. Sandusky noted for the Board that the head of the Vancouver Organizing Committee had been cleared of any wrongdoing with regard to the bidding for the 2010 Olympic Winter Games. Ms. DeFrantz explained to the Board the IOC Ethics Commission’s finding on this issue. None of the parties involved were IOC members and none had control over the votes of IOC members. The case was dismissed.
Ms. DeFrantz then updated the Board regarding preparations for the IOC’s 2012 Women and Sport Conference, which will be held in Los Angeles. She advised the Board that preparations are going well and 600-700 people are expected to attend.

Mr. Ruger explained how complaints generally come to him and walked the Board through the grievance process generally.

Mr. Ruger then advised the Board regarding the larger matters he expects to be involved with in 2011, including the reassessment of the WADA code and the USOC’s Best Practices Seminar for NGBs. Mr. Blackmun explained to the Board that although Mr. Ruger’s responsibility is to represent the athletes, he should and does work collaboratively with NGBs to solve disputes in creative ways.

F. Diversity Working Group

Mr. Blackmun updated the Board regarding the USOC’s Diversity Working Group. This group, made up of representatives from across the US Olympic Movement, is expected to provide a report at the Olympic Assembly. Its goal will be to develop practical, results focused proposals to expand diversity across the entire US Olympic Movement.

G. Safe Training Environments

Mr. Blackmun reported that the USOC has hired a Director of Ethics and Safe Sport who will begin work in early April.

H. AAU/NGB Working Group

Mr. Blackmun advised the Board that there are some challenges in the relationship between the AAU and the NGB family. To address these issues, the USOC put together a working group made up of representatives of each. The working group came together for an initial meeting at the USOC’s headquarters to determine how to develop a better working relationship between the groups. Mr. Blackmun reported that the meeting went well, although more work is needed. Following the meeting, it was agreed that AAU representatives would join the NGBs for their meeting in April.

I. Chula Vista OTC Projects
Mr. Blackmun updated the Board regarding several potential deals relating to the Chula Vista Olympic Training Center. The USOC has a potential agreement with the Easton Sports Development Foundation which would result in the development of a new archery facility and a potential agreement with the Eastlake Company and the San Diego National Sports Training Foundation (collectively) that could allow the USOC to free up resources to use to further build-out the OTC. Mr. Jim Didion has been leading the negotiations on behalf of the USOC.

A discussion then occurred regarding each of the potential deals, the benefits to the USOC, the risks and the potential costs. Following the discussion, Mr. Blackmun sought Board approval to enter into the two agreements, subject to two conditions discussed by the Board.

Subject to obtaining modifications to both proposals as discussed with the Board, the Board unanimously approved a motion authorizing the USOC to enter into each agreement.

J. Colorado Springs OTC Project

Mr. Blackmun reported to the Board regarding the renovation plans for the Colorado Springs Olympic Training Center. Mr. Blackmun began by reminding the Board of the original agreement reached with the City of Colorado Springs with regard to the OTC build-out. He then explained to the Board that the USOC has undertaken significant further assessment of the OTC’s current and potential use since the deal was consummated. Based upon this assessment, the USOC has a further conceptual proposal for the OTC improvements that it would like to take to the City. However, before the USOC takes this proposal to the City, Mr. Blackmun was seeking confirmation that the Board supports a move in this direction. A discussion ensued regarding use of the OTC, how best to serve the athletes and the direction the USOC desires to go with its training centers generally. Following the discussion the Board confirmed that it agreed with the direction proposed. Mr. Blackmun explained that the USOC would next be going to the City to confirm that they were comfortable as well, and would come back to the Board in June seeking approval of a more detailed development plan.

At this time, 10:35, the Board took a short break.

4. Resource Allocation

The Board next turned to a discussion regarding the USOC’s current and future resource allocation strategy. Mr. Ashley reminded the Board of the discussion that had occurred at the December 2010 Board meeting regarding the USOC’s current funding strategy and the work that had been undertaken with Deloitte relating to resource allocation. As had been explained previously, the USOC is working to ensure better integration all resources in funding decisions including financial support, services and OTC use. In order to ensure greater focus and accountability, the USOC is looking to develop a clear philosophy, with specifically articulated, Board approved, guiding principles, which will then drive the allocation of all sport-related USOC resources.

A detailed and thorough discussion then occurred among the Board regarding resource allocation, the USOC’s current efforts, proposed guiding principles and how resource allocation must be used in support of the USOC’s mission. Angela Ruggiero joined the meeting by teleconference during this discussion. As part of the discussion, the Board examined funding options for both Paralympic sports and for Pan American Games only sports. Following the discussion, it was determined that the USOC should undertake a further assessment of the economic impact of various ideas proposed by the Board with a goal of proposing a specific policy for Board approval at the June Board meeting. In the interim, Mr. Ashley will continue to move forward using the basic concepts laid out for the Board and which have been driving the USOC’s allocation efforts for the last several allocation cycles.

From 12:10 to 12:45 the Board adjourned for lunch.

He advised the Board that the AAC’s mission is “to communicate the interests and protect the rights of athlete, in cooperative support of the USOC achieving its mission.” Mr. Van Houten noted that cooperation with the USOC has grown significantly, with the AAC involved in several key USOC initiatives in the last year, including Angela Ruggiero’s election to the IOC Athletes Commission and the Tagliabue Committee on Governance. In 2010, the AAC also explored appropriate representation of Paralympic athletes on the AAC, undertook a survey of the US athlete population to determine where the AAC should focus going forward, and acted as part of the group that helped to develop the new Olympic and Paralympic Assembly structure. As Chair, Mr. Van Houten also worked with Mr. Blackmun to oversee the Ombudsman.

Mr. Van Houten next explained to the Board the AAC’s intended focus for 2011. The AAC will be working collaboratively with the NGBC to develop a guide of best practices to improve relationships between athletes and sport administrators. It will also be working to build stronger relationships across all of the USOC’s councils. Finally, it will continue its efforts regarding Paralympic representation and will be looking to better understand and be part of the USOC’s resource allocation process. Mr. Van Houten explained that many of these efforts will continue into 2012 as well, with an additional focus on identifying a new AAC representative to the USOC Board in that year.

Mr. Van Houten closed his presentation by noting that the athletes are generally very pleased with the progress and direction of the USOC and the Olympic Movement. Ms. DeFrantz inquired on work about involving AAC members with their International Federations.
