USA Boxing is excited to share a comprehensive proposal for our 2019 through 2022 competition season. USA Boxing’s events take place year-round, beginning with the first qualifier in the spring and ending with the National Championships in December. Competitive bids will include facilities, services, and value-in-kind donations to make the event successful for the city, Local Boxing Committee (LBC), and participants, while representing the USA Boxing brand.

What is USA Boxing?

USA Boxing (USAB) is the National Governing Body (NGB) for the sport of Olympic-style boxing in the United States. USAB is a non-profit corporation and member of the United States Olympic Committee (USOC). USAB is responsible for training, competition and development for the sport of amateur boxing, as well as qualifying athletes to the U.S. Olympic, Youth Olympic, and Pan American Teams. USAB is also recognized by the International Boxing Federation (AIBA) as the national federation responsible for the governance of the sport of amateur boxing in the United States.

The mission of USA Boxing shall be to enable United States’ athletes and coaches to achieve sustained competitive excellence, develop character, support the sport of boxing, and promote and grow Olympic style boxing in the United States. The responsibility of USA Boxing is not only to produce Olympic gold, but also oversee and govern every aspect of amateur boxing in the United States.

Purpose of National Events

For USA Boxing members, the beginning of the domestic season starts with the Western Qualifier (typically in March) and ends with the National Championship in December. For the elite division (ages 19-40), the two qualifier tournaments (Western and Eastern) earns the top two boxers per weight division a spot at the National Championship. Along with the previous year’s finalist and two wildcard selections, the top 8 boxers in the country fight for a spot on Team USA. The finalists are named to Team USA and travel internationally to represent the United States and USA Boxing. International events include the World Championships, Pan Am Games, Continental Championships, and other championship events depending on the year. In an Olympic Trials qualifying year, the boxer that wins their weight division at the Olympic Trials in December earns the right to travel internationally to Olympic qualifying events and earn a spot on the U.S. Olympic Team.

The National Champion for the Youth (17-18 years) division also earn a spot on Team USA and compete at the international stage at events such as the Youth World Championships, Youth Continentals, Youth Olympics, and other international events. The Junior (15-16 years) division travels internationally if events are available, and they also attend domestics camps at the Olympic Training Center. The younger ages divisions (Intermediate, Bantam, and PeeWee) work on their development and earn ranking points at USAB domestic events with the hope of being on Team USA when they age into the older divisions.

Event History

Each USA Boxing event welcomes on average 800 boxers, 500 coaches, and 100 officials/staff members from across the United States for a 7-day tournament. Ages range from the PeeWee division (9-10 years) to the Elite division (19-40 years). Each Elite event during an Olympic Year (2019, 2023, 2027, etc.) is an Olympic Trials qualifier, culminating with the Olympic Trials taking place in December. The boxer that wins his/her weight class will earn the right to qualify a spot for the Olympic Games.

RFP

This Request for Proposal (RFP) will outline the background of each event, USA Boxing’s expectations of the Local Boxing Committee (LBC), and the structure that these events will be produced. It will also outline the benefits of the USA Boxing National Championships and the contents to be submitted in the proposal.
