Dear USA Curling Athletes,

We hope that this email finds you safe and well. If you are planning to travel for any reason, we encourage you to first consider the recommendations and guidelines provided by your local health authorities and the CDC.

2021 WJCC & World Wheelchair Curling Championships

Due to the ongoing pandemic, the World Curling Federation has announced that the 2021 World Junior Curling Championships have been cancelled and the 2021 World Wheelchair Curling Championship has been postponed. To read the full release, click here.

The United States was to have a junior men's team competing in the 2021 WJCC, which would have been determined via discretionary pick, as the qualifying events had been cancelled due to COVID-19. The cancellation of the WJCC no longer necessitates this discretionary pick.

The United States' Wheelchair National Team is scheduled to compete in the World Wheelchair B Championship in Finland.
