First Elite National Training Camp

Olympic Committee Approves Racquetball Camp

All Regions Represented
Regional Directors Seminar Held

On January 13-15 all 15 Regional Directors met at the United States Olympic Training Center for the first Regional Directors Seminar. It was sponsored by Lite Beer, DP Leach, and Penn Athletic Products companies. Continuity and standardization of the 1984 Lite/A.A.R.A. Regionals were the main topics on Friday, January 13. The session opened with Baron Pittinger, president of the A.A.R.A. He made a keynote address to the directors.

All three major sponsors made marketing presentations with Lynn Schlager representing Lite Beer from Miller's Young Adult Marketing, Keith Trepper with Robert Landau Associates, and Steve Forsyth, Lite Beer Public Relations Department. DP Leach was represented by Greg Eveland, Product Manager. Bob Beebe, Product Manager, represented Penn Athletic Products.

The 15 regions were represented by Paul Hennickson, Massachusetts, Region #1, Al Selleman, New York, Region #2, Bernie Howard, Pennsylvania, Region #3, Van Dubsky, Florida, Region #4, Bob Huskey, Alabama, Region #5, Roy Wickers, Missouri, substituting for Rick Lakasek in Region #6, Bruce Hendin, Texas, Region #7, Alvin Barach, Illinois, Region #8, Jim Hueser, Michigan, Region #9, Michael Arnold (continued on page 15).

Approval has been given to the A.A.R.A. to hold the first Elite National Training Camp in racquetball history at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

"What a tremendous step forward for our young sport," stated Paul Hennickson, president of the A.A.R.A. "I cannot think of a more prestigious place in the United States to hold the first National Training Camp."

"This development is another indication of the United States Olympic Committee's faith in the A.A.R.A. and the sport of racquetball," remarked Luke St. Onge, executive director of the A.A.R.A. "Here is a great opportunity for our athletes to come and train along with Olympic hopefuls from all sports. We will have tremendous impact on our sport and the development of international racquetball competition."

The camp will be in session for one-week intervals beginning July 29 and continuing through August 25, 1984. Forty athletes will be invited for each session with selection based upon finishing positions in the Regionals and National Singles, as well as the National Rankings.

Both adult and junior training classes will be held during the Junior Week involving 16 and 18-year-old divisions. One week will include Open players and the two remaining weeks will involve the upper age groups.

Players will receive invitations to attend the National Training Camp. The total cost (including room and board) is estimated to be around $150.00 a week. Criteria for invitations is now being formulated and will be available at the Regionals and Nationals. Invitations will go out to qualified athletes in May and June, and acceptance will be based upon first-come, first-serve basis until all sessions are filled. If the weeks do not fill up by the deadline the selection will be made by National Headquarters.

The low cost of $150.00 will go toward rental of facility, camp personnel, camp shirts, etc., and is certainly within the range of all athletes. The athletes will be picked up at the Colorado Springs Airport by Olympic Training Center vans.

The athletes will be housed and receive meals at Training Center and be bussed daily to the Point Athletic Club where the training will take place. Daily sessions will begin at 8:00 a.m. and run until 4:30 p.m. at the Point Athletic Club followed by an evening evaluation period to be held at the Olympic Training Center.

MIKE ARNOLT
Indiana

Racquetball should be fun and uncomplicated so one can enjoy the benefits of physical conditioning, mental release and competitive spirit.

To that end, I have assisted at the State, Intercollegiates, Junior and National levels.

My emphasis is twofold: 1) the rules clarification and certification program must be continued for all tournaments, so that segment racquetball will never survive, and 2) developing a Refuge Certification Program so that we may adapt and judge and be judged equally upon the courts. The rules clarification and certification program are ready for use.

As a Board Member, it is my plan to provide direct communication with the group which affects the direction of racquetball.

JON DENLEY
New Jersey

Only a short three years ago the A.R.A.A. was almost non-existent in the state of New Jersey with an association which attempted to proffer through scheduling as many tournaments as the calendar would permit, their theme was always "quantity." Being an avid player and staunch supporter of the A.R.A.A. I was asked to consider accepting the position of State Director. Upon acceptance I carefully selected a committee to assist me in this venture. Our common theme as a non-profit group was to promote racquetball through quality and excellence.

Today we have over 1,400 players and clubs with 20 tournaments scheduled and 60 active clubs, and a participatory spirit.

I have been devoted to racquetball for the past 17 years. It is my belief that in the history of racquetball no one organization has done more to solidify our sport for the future than the A.R.A.A. I want to continue the work I have done on a state and regional level at a national level. I would like to be able to share my enthusiasm for the sport with the sport with the "other players" and would like nothing better than to continue to serve at Association member.

VAN DUBOLSKY
Florida

My name is Van Dubolsky. I am employed as an instructor at the Physical Sciences at Santa Fe Community College in Gainesville, Florida. Although I love my teaching job which pays the bills, I feel I have been enriched in my real life. I have been involved in racquetball through quality and excellence.

Today we have over 1,400 players and clubs with 20 tournaments scheduled and 6000 active clubs, and a participatory spirit.

JIM HISER
Michigan

In the short time that I have served as Regional Director for Region 49, Michigan and Ohio have consistently been in the top 10 states. I have engaged members to vote and have sponsored the expenses of the Directors. With these sponsors help no problem would have been placed. The seminar proved to be a huge success and we feel that for the first time there will be continuity and standardization within the Region. The Lite/A.R.A.A. Regions were not the only interest on the agenda. The full spectrum of A.R.A.A. activities were discussed.

Of equal significance, the U.A.R.F. has made it possible for me to make a presentation during the Olympic Committee to the United States Olympic Committee under President Dr. Sabino Hernandez. I am proud to be a part of racquetball as a demonstration sport in the 1987 Pan American Games. This development, alongside the very dedicated possibility of racquetball becoming a demonstration sport, is a great step toward Olympic recognition.

I believe that the framework of the future of our organization will be built through the development of the Junior's and Women's Programs. As a leader in the mid-west, Michigan is one of the organizers of the Michigan Racquetball Association with...

numerous prestigious tournaments, I believe I can make a major contribution to the A.A.R.A. Board of Directors and will make the necessary time available in order to fulfill the obligations required with such a commitment.

GARY MAZAROFF
New Mexico

I hope that I can make the A.A.R.A. the stabilizing and recognizing force it ought to be for the entire racquetball community. My background allows for me to promote the game; specifically through the instructional medium and through public relations. I have written instructional articles and conducted seminars, primarily in the Southwest Region. I hope to expand my target areas to include other parts of the country as well as the Latin American Countries. My Spanish background will allow for this communication. As a A.A.R.A. board member, I can continue to use the tools which have been effective for me in the past 10 years as an athlete, coach, and administrator.

ED REMEN
Virginia

With over 17 years of athletic experience, I would like to serve on the Board of Directors for the A.A.R.A. and help racquetball reach its “peak in the sun.” As a professional physical education and coach on the university level, I have been involved with the administration, development, and implementation of sports programs. As a current owner and director of a racquetball health club, I am involved with the grass roots development and promotion of our sport. Further, as a racquetball competitor I have experienced fond memories and made lasting friendships. I would like the opportunity to serve the racquetball community and help bring the sport of racquetball to full Olympic recognition.

GARNER WHITE

I am a retired Financial Controller that spends full time at community related sports activities. For the past three years of my efforts has been in Racquetball. I have served as head of the Local and State Associations and am now Commissioner of Region #1.

We have come a long way in administering to the needs of racquetball in our Region and I would like to do everything I can to bring the sport to a position of equity with the traditional sports in our area and assist the dedicated group of men and women now serving our sport to take it all the way to the top - to have it become an Olympic event. I am dedicated to that task.

Maintaining Amateur Status

Lite, DP, Penn Sponsor Regionals

Lite Beer, DP, Leach and Penn Athletic Products Company have combined to sponsor the Lite/A.R.A. Regional Championships and the U.S. National Singles Championships presented by Lite Beer.

The Lite/A.R.A. Regionals have taken on new and increased importance this year in that the U.S. National Singles Championships is closed to include only those players who compete in the Lite/A.R.A. Regionals. In addition, those players who finish high in the Lite/A.R.A. Regionals will receive consideration toward an invitation to the U.S. National Elite Racquetball Camp to be held at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs in August. These major sponsors have dedicated themselves to make the Lite/A.A.R.A. Regionals the most prestigious events in racquetball - second only to the four major National Championships.

Under the new format, the Lite/A.R.A. Regional Championships will go far in bringing racquetball to the forefront as a more predominant sport within the Olympic community. For further information contact: Luke St. Onge, Executive Director, 815 North Weber Street, Colorado Springs, CO 80903.

State and Regional News

To Maureen Henrickson... congratulations upon being appointed as National Women's Commissioner.

To Mike Arnold... on a job well done on the Referee's Certification Program. Remember, players can participate in the U.S. National Singles presented by Lite Beer from Miller ONLY if they play in the Lite/A.A.R.A. Regionals.

Congratulations to Paul Thiel and Fred Petrello from Connecticut for running the first U.S. National Team Benefit. Through this tournament they raised $1,500.

To all the Regional Directors for taking the time to out of their busy schedule to attend the Regional Directors' Seminar at the United States Olympic Center, we express enthusiastic appreciation. Attendance was 100%.

Appoint National Commissioner For Women

Maureen Henrickson has been appointed National Commissioner for Women at the recent management seminar held for all regional commissioners in Colorado Springs. Luke St. Onge, Executive Director of the A.A.R.A., made the announcement at the January meeting noting that Henrickson will be the first women's commissioner.

A member in good standing of the A.A.R.A. for eight years, Henrickson has served on numerous committees involved in the promotion of racquetball. For the past four years, she has held the position of state director for the Massachusetts Racquetball Association. Under the auspices of the M.R.A., she has directed a series of racquetball tournaments "for women only." Her experiences as a player, organizer, promoter, program director, and advocate for the women's cause in racquetball make Henrickson a good choice for this new position. Players with comments and suggestions as to the development and promotion of the women racquetball player should contact Henrickson at the Massachusetts Racquetball Association, 20 Oakes Street, Millbury, MA 01527.

As the tournament season moves into high gear, we are expecting the largest increase nationally in AAR.A. membership. The inclusion of several states and regions throughout the country is strengthening the AAR.A. membership for all its members. Through programs such as Penn's counter-card membership drive, we are actively seeking to vastly increase the non-tournament players that can develop into a nationwide sport. As an association we need to get the word out that the support of non-tournament players is key to the success of our organization. We then need to belong to our association in order to have a voice in the growth and development of the sport.

Delivering the U.S. Nationalism to the world in our quest for International Olympic Committee recognition shows the non-tournament players that racquetball is a developing sport. As an association we need to get the word out that the support of non-tournament players is key to the success of our organization. We then need to belong to our association in order to have a voice in the growth and development of the sport.

When your racquetball performs erratically, you will, too. So trust the ball that became number one in the world through liveliness, durability, and Penn's now-famous consistency. Ball after ball, can after can. You might discover you're a better player than you think.

Lite/A.A.R.A. Tournaments Posted

The 1984 Junior Nationals and Adult Nationals participation will be limited to A.A.R.A. members who have participated in any of the 1984 Regional Championships held throughout the country. “Participation” consists of paying the entry fee at the regional tournament on one’s choice. Any championship division with at least six entrants must be held at the Regionals. The tournament director is requested to play any championship division with five or less contestants as a round-robin event. Any player entered in a division with five or less contestants who does not wish to participate in a round-robin or in another division will be refunded his or her entry fee. This player will still be eligible to participate in the Nationals. The Regional Director and the A.A.R.A. Executive Director will be allowed to excuse any players who are unable to meet the participation requirement due to extenuating (emergency) circumstances, such as personal family tragedies and injuries documented with a physician’s note to be included with the National entry blank.

To Become An Olympic Sport

Racquetball is not yet an Olympic sport and will not be contested during the 1984 Olympics. Major obstacles must be overcome before the dream of the Olympics becomes reality.

To understand the procedure for racquetball to become an Olympic sport, one must first understand the different organizations, terms, and phrases that all have parts to play in becoming an Olympic sport.

The A.A.R.A. (American Amateur Racquetball Association) is the national governing body of racquetball in the United States. It is a member of the U.S.O.C. and a charter member of the I.A.R.F. (International Racquetball Federation). The A.A.R.A. is the supreme governing body of amateur sports in the United States. This committee was the result of the Amateur Sports Act of 1975.

The U.S.O.C. (United States Olympic Committee) is the supreme governing body of the Olympic Games. The U.S.O.C. is the sole representative of a sport in the United States for administration and selection of athletes in the Pan Am and Olympic Games. Authority is given to this body by the Amateur Sports Act of 1975.

The I.A.R.F. (International Amateur Racquetball Federation) is the supreme governing body of racquetball internationally and a member of the (continued on page 5)
Olympic Hope

General Association of International Sports Federations located in Monte Carlo, Monaco. Presently, the I.A.R.F. is comprised of 40 countries as members on five continents.

The G.A.I.S.F. (General Association of International Sports Federations) is made up of more than 60 international Sports Federations, with both Olympic and non-Olympic sports.

When people speak of I.O.C. Recognition, they are talking of the provision in the I.O.C. Charter that recognizes developing sports with the potential of becoming Olympic sports. Requirements state that the sport must be practiced in at least 25 countries on three continents.

On the Program of the Olympic Games refers to sports that are practiced in at least 42 countries on three continents and have been voted to the Program of the Olympics by the I.O.C.

A Quaetennial is each four year period leading up to the Olympic games.

The Pan-American Games is the name of the multi-international sports competition contested every four years, restricted to North, South, and Central American Countries.

A Demonstration Sport is included in both the Pan Am and Olympic Games as sports that can become full participating sports in future Olympic and Pan Am games, but are not officially a contested sport in either contests.

Members of the U.S.O.C. that are on the program of the Pan Am Games or the Olympic Games are called Group A Members of the U.S.O.C.

Regional games are held every other year by I.A.R.F. members in Europe, North America, Asia, South America, and Central America.

The I.A.R.F. World Championships are held every two years by the I.A.R.F. with the 1984 World Championships slated for July 16-21 at Glenelges Racquetball Club, in Sacramento, CA. In all, 21 countries are expected to compete.

In order to become a Pan American and Olympic Sport certain procedures must be followed. To date most of these have been met.

A bonafide International Federation was formed in 1979.

World Championships were held in 1981 and will be held again in 1984.

In 1980 the I.O.C. recognized the I.A.R.F. as the international governing body for racquetball.

The A.A.R.A. became a member of the U.S.O.C. in 1982. Regional Competitions were held in 1982 and 1983 by the I.A.R.F.

Racquetball must become a demonstration sport in the Pan Am games in 1987. Approval for this is expected this year.

Finally, the I.A.R.F. must receive I.O.C. recognition. This should happen when the I.A.R.F. fulfills all requirements for recognition. This is anticipated to happen in 1984 or 1985.

It is hoped that racquetball will be included as a full-fledged sport in the Pan Am Games in 1991. If all goes as planned, and support continues to be made to the I.A.R.F. as well as the A.A.R.A., this inclusion could be approved within the next several years. The more active the U.S. National Team, the quicker this will become reality.

Once I.O.C. recognition is given to the I.A.R.F., racquetball must expand the number of countries where it is played to 72 for the 1988 Olympics and to over 90 for the 1992 Olympics. Racquetball must spread behind the Iron Curtain and become popular before it will be voted in by the I.O.C. This possibility is not out of reach since it is felt that the Eastern European countries would like nothing better than to embarrass the United States.(for example, basketball).

Although the time-table is extremely aggressive, tremendous progress has already been made to seek Olympic status. Much has been accomplished in six short years. It has taken other sports as long as 50 or 60 years to reach Olympic status.

Racquetball In Review

HEAD REDEFINES RACQUETBALL:

Two years ago, engineers at Head began creating designs that would move racquetball into a new era.

A larger hitting area emerged. A firmer frame. An aerodynamically sleek profile. A lighter, more maneuverable racquet head. And a stiffness that racquets of the past just can’t touch.

But these new designs were more than great ideas on the drawing board. In test-play, they delivered amazing new levels of power and control.

And now, Head brings that stunning performance to your game with the new Vector and Graphite Apex racquets.

Never has there been such a clear advantage available to the serious racquetball player. So visit your Authorized Head Dealer soon.

Because you see, we must make them available to your competition as well.

We want you to win.
