

Defending world champs in the dance event, David Golub and Angela Famiano garner their first gold at Nationals.

At the moment their music began, each individual or team hoped that this would be the day for a personal best in their chosen artistic discipline. Only 58 of these hopefuls could actually gain a national title, yet 1400 participating athletes shared their talents, their disappointments and their joy, while helping to demonstrate the scope of artistic skating in the summer of 1984.
