III. COMPETITION FORMAT

The 2019 USAT National Poomsae Team Trials event for selection of the Cadet and Junior Poomsae Team for the Pan Am Championships will use the cut-off method and team trial format as defined by the USAT Poomsae Competition Rules and these selection procedures:

Preliminary Round (20+ competitors):

Recognized competitors will perform one poomsae. Freestyle competitors will perform one freestyle poomsae. The competitors with scores in the top half of the group proceed to the semi-final round.

Semifinal Round (9-19 competitors): Recognized competitors will perform two poomsae. Freestyle competitors will perform one freestyle poomsae. The competitors with scores in the top eight of the group proceed to the final round.

Final Round (Freestyle Poomsae) (8 or fewer competitors) Cut-off Format

Each of the top 8 athletes will perform their poomsae once to determine the final standings. The athlete with the highest score will be determined the winner.

In case of a tied score, the tie will be broken according to the WTF rules: The winner will be the competitor with the highest technical skills score. In case that the scores are still tied, the competitor with the highest total points including the total points of all judges without dropping the high and low score is the winner. If it's still tied, the tied competitors will perform one poomsae, and the competitor with the highest score will be the winner.

Final Round (Recognized Poomsae) (8 or fewer competitors)

Team Trials Format

With the selection of the very best athlete in mind, the method of selection for Recognized Poomsae Divisions shall include the performance of each of the eight required poomsae for each division. If there are twenty or more total competitors in the division, then the tournament committee will choose four randomly selected poomsae and each competitor will perform these four chosen poomsae instead of all eight poomsae.

Each Recognized Poomsae Division will perform all required poomsae one at a time per round: all competitors will perform the first randomly selected poomsae, followed by all competitors performing the second poomsae, and so forth. The poomsae order will be announced at least 1 day prior to the competition.

The first round of competition (first poomsae) within a division shall have a random competitor order. Subsequent rounds' competitor orders shall also have a random competitor order. The algorithm used to randomize the competitors each round will ensure that no competitor will perform first for any two consecutive rounds.

The selection of the winner will be based on two methods of calculating the results.

1. The first method will be by cumulative score of all rounds of competition. At the end of eight rounds, the scores across all eight (or four) poomsae for each athlete are totaled. The athlete who has the highest total score will be declared the winner. The athlete who has the second highest total score is the first alternate. The athlete who has the third highest score is the second alternate, and the athlete with the fourth highest score is the third alternate.

In the case of a tie, the winner is the competitor with the highest presentation score. If the competitors are still tied, all scores received during the competition are considered (without dropping the high and low scores). If the scores are still tied, the competitors will perform a randomly selected poomsae, and the scores from that poomsae will be used to break the tie.

2. The second method will be by placement during each round of poomsae. Each round a first, second, third and fourth place will be awarded to the competitors and the number of wins will be recorded across all rounds. At the end of eight (or four) rounds, the number of round wins will be listed as highest number of 1st placements, # of 2nd places, # of 3rd places and # of 4th places. The competitor with the highest number of 1st place wins, if tied then the number of 2nd place then number of 3rd place etc. (i.e. Competitor A with 5 first place wins beats Competitor B with 3 first place and 5 second place wins – or - Competitor A with 4 first place, 3 second place and 1 third place beats Competitor B with 4 first place, 2 second place and 1 third place.)

If the same athlete places first in both methods of calculating the winner than that athlete is the uncontested winner. In the event that any different athletes place higher using the second method and record more first place round wins than the cumulative score winner, those athletes will have the right to challenge the winner to a tie breaker round.

The tie breaker between methods will use a Single elimination format. The athletes qualifying will be seeded as the Cumulative Score winner seeded number 1 and the Round winner seeded number 2, with subsequent Round winners, if any, seeded next. 2 forms will be randomly selected and the round will be run using WTF Single elimination format rules. The winner will be named the 2019 Cadet or Junior Poomsae Team Member for the Pan Am Championships. Alternates, if needed, will be selected from the cumulative score results.

IV. REQUIRED POOMSAE

A list of the required Poomsae for the 2019 USAT National Poomsae Team Trials event will be published to the USAT website no later than one day prior to the start of competition.

The order in which the Recognized Poomsae will be contested at the 2019 USAT National Poomsae Team Trials will be published to the USAT website no later than the day before the team trials.

V. ATHLETE REPLACEMENTS

In an uncontested team or pair division (Recognized or Freestyle), in the event of an injury or withdrawal of a member, the team or pair may replenish their roster to the starting number that they had at team trials by any USAT athlete that was eligible throughout the selection process.

For contested divisions – in the event of an injury or withdrawal, the eligible alternate for that division will be asked to fill the opening. (Freestyle Team is seen as composed of 5 or 6 members that may be interchanged at the discretion of their coach. No athlete is guaranteed to be in the starting lineup of 5 whether they performed for team trials or not and a team shall not be replaced unless their number of athletes drops below 5.)

VI. DIVISION CHANGE DISCLAIMER

These selection procedures are based on the most current information available to USA Taekwondo. In the event that divisions are consolidated to larger age groupings the following method will be used to determine the athlete selected to represent USAT at the Pan Am Championships.

 - b. Only those athletes who placed 1st in their respective division or those athletes who are alternates who have been notified and accepted the position to represent their division in the event the 1st place winner declines the position, will be considered in the decision of the selection committee.

- c. Criteria for the selection of the athlete will include but not be limited to World Poomsae Championship record, US Poomsae Team Trial record, USAT Nationals record, Pan Am Championships record and US Open record.
