USA Volleyball has a full-time National Office staff, along with dedicated staff and volunteers at all 40 of its Regional Offices. Both national and regional staff deal exclusively with indoor and outdoor volleyball - no other sport. The National Office and Regional Offices are devoted to providing standardized governance and programming to grow the game. Along with benefits that come with your regional membership, our goal is to provide educational opportunities for players, coaches, officials and parents as well as quality events at all levels. We also provide skills training for players and opportunities for coaches to compete at national events and represent the United States at international competition. We offer advancement in coaching and officiating, connections to collegiate programs as well as National Teams. We offer National team players and coaches to come to your region to conduct clinics on a local level. Regularly scheduled meetings are held between the National Office staff, Regional Volleyball Associations and Commission leaders to maintain the high level of quality members expect.

There are many organizations that cater to junior girls' volleyball programs from club teams to running events. USAV believes that not only junior girls are important to the growth and maintaining our sport, but we also touch many lives through our programming of:

Paralympics
Special Olympics
Deaf players and teams
Wounded Warrior Games
Boy and Girls Scouts
Starlings Programs

USA Volleyball is recognized by the United States Olympic Committee (USOC) and the Federation de Volleyball (FIVB) as the National Governing Body for the sport of volleyball and Beach Volleyball in the United States.

USAV, a non-profit, non-government supported organization, sets the standards at all levels from the National Teams to the youngest and oldest age groups in indoor, beach, grass and Paralympic disciplines for both genders. No other organization is so totally invested in creating volleyball as a lifetime sport from top to bottom. USAV re-invests in the sport through financial support for under-represented populations including Starlings USA economically-disadvantaged clubs, boys' and college men (including grants for NCAA and NAIA institutions that are starting new varsity men's volleyball teams), military and a wealth of disabled programming. In 2011 a U.S. State Department grant brought NORCECA (North America, Central America and Caribbean) coaches from six nations to the USA for special exchange training and partnership work.

USAV is the official National Governing Body (NGB) for the sport of volleyball in the U.S.

USAV has 40 Regional Volleyball Associations (RVAs) and 31 Affiliate Organizations (YMCA, AVCA, etc.) supporting its mission, all of whom are eligible to participate in the annual USAV Congress typically held in May. USAV sets the standards for governance and specifies that every region in the country meet specific criteria to remain in good standing within the organization. USAV meetings - including its Board meetings - are open to the public. USAV with suggestions from the RVA's and Officials, sets the rules for outdoor and indoor competitions contested under its name and recommends standards for use by other youth and adult volleyball organizations.

USAV Nominates the Olympic Teams. USAV, sets the standards for volleyball at all levels to ensure consistent rules, safety, officiating, scorekeeping, facilities and coaching.

USAV has developed high-quality referees and scorekeepers who must undergo certification and evaluation, creating a pool of regionally and nationally certified court officials, through live, in person training and online education. As volleyball continues to gain popularity, there is a constant need for skilled adults to take on the roles of coaches, referees, and scorekeepers throughout the volleyball community. Since 1988, USA Volleyball has been proactively instructing new coaches entering the sport with the core principles to teaching, motor learning, coaching philosophy, risk management, skill and team systems, and annually updating the manual with the newest research from our USOC partner. All USAV junior coaches must complete minimum coaching education requirements through the USAV Coaching Accreditation Program (CAP). (I)ncreased (M)astery and (P)rofessional (A)pplication of (C)oaching (T)heory. (IMPACT) is an introductory level coaching clinic offered through the Regions and National office via in-person or webinar clinics. USAV has partnered with the National Federation of High Schools (NFHS) and the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) to offer advanced training with new online courses.

USAV sets the standard by demanding protection for your kids by requiring EVERY adult over the age of 18 working with junior players to have a comprehensive background screening performed every two years. USAV membership includes an insurance protection package.

USAV members are eligible to try out for and participate on Regional and National High Performance teams, including Team USA squads that compete internationally in zonal and World Championship events that are part of the pipeline that fields the Olympic Teams who represent the USA at the Olympic Games. USA Volleyball has partnered with the Center for Disease Control to provide free USAV branded clipboard stickers for coaches and programs to help keep the key information about concussions right there on the court.

ACTION PLAN

If you suspect that an athlete has a concussion, you should take the following four steps:

1. Remove the athlete from play.
2. Ensure that the athlete is evaluated by a health care professional experienced in evaluating for concussion. Do not try to judge the seriousness of the injury yourself.
3. Inform the athlete's parents or guardians about the possible concussion and give them the fact sheet on concussion.
4. Keep the athlete out of play the day of the injury and until a health care professional, experienced in evaluating for concussion, says they are symptom-free and it's OK to return to play.
